Doug,

I love you a ton. This has been a busy year of marriage and adjustments for all and I think we've come through well. I am really happy about the life we are building.

As I mentioned before, I am extremely concerned about the negative impact ██████ has on ALL of us. ██████

I am serious about being in this for the long haul and as such, I want things to improve, not get worse as I fear they are getting.

I am seeing Greg Hamilton on Monday to help with my own feelings about this. He's good with practical advice too, but I am not going to be able to solve this one through the power of positive thinking and doing the right thing.

Could you please reach out to Peter Bunch -- feel free to share this email with him.

Couple points I would like to make:

* Ignoring ██████ bad behavior -- such as the phone call and ██████ nearly hitting me with her car-- didn't stop things.

* Reaching out to ██████ in a respectful way (as many recommended)-- trying to share with ██████ that I too had my kids spend time with ██████ and trying to reassure ██████ that I wasn't trying to be a "mom" to them -- didn't work either.

* Asking ██████ to stop emailing me doesn't work. ██████ ██████

* As a woman and mother -- allegations of abuse against women are horrible. False ones even worse. ██████ that ██████ openly admits ██████ tells people this about you is NOT OK. It doesn't just hurt you or me. You are a stepfather to a teenage girl and teenage son. Hannah hears EVERYTHING. This is not the reputation anyone wants. ██████ I can't believe something can't be done to stop this.

* ██████ behavior is no longer targeted at just you Doug. ██████ corralled Alex at a football game and launched into stories. Hannah watched the whole thing. Alex later called me with questions, as he was very confused by what ██████ said. Hannah and I have had to sit through events where ██████ turns and points and stares at us. ██████ refused to give Hannah's soccer uniform back after I mistakenly sent it over with ██████ stuff.

* ██████ told people I was stalking ██████ This couldn't be farther from the truth. We purposely chose not to live in ██████ neighborhood. I have declined to be a member of the gym ██████ belongs to (even though I have many friends there and it would be nice). I don't jog or drive by her house (as ██████ does here). I don't bad mouth ██████ and in fact work hard to change the subject when inevitably people want to share "██████ horror stories."

I feel I am doing all the right things and still the situation is deteriorating.
