Additional running information.

I have been pretty vocal about training for a half marathon.

It was a big deal in the family, and all the kids, except [REDACTED] who was with his [REDACTED] came and watched.

The next time [REDACTED] was with us, he told me [REDACTED] ran a half marathon. Then, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] asked me my time. Figuring it wasn't him, but [REDACTED] who was interested, I told him I wasn't running to make any special time or compete with anyone.

Additional information for file:

The Lake Run is an event sponsored by the Junior Women's club, a group Traci is a member of. And also, Foot Locker, where Traci is participating in the Foot Traffic University.

Historically, it has been an event Doug has done with the boys.

Harrison was running with Daniel.

Hannah was a volunteer.

Race results will show that [REDACTED] has not participated in the last five years.

Lake Run 5/8/2010

I notice [REDACTED] when I was lining up for run. Moved far to side away from where [REDACTED] was. [REDACTED] moved up to right behind me.

My group moved [REDACTED] moved with us, again very close behind. My running partner told me [REDACTED] was staring at me. At that point, I did not want to play any games.

I asked my group if they cared if we moved to back of the line, they didn't. We moved to the complete back of all the runners, so I could avoid any contact whatsoever with [REDACTED].
